Misconduct

In a labour intensive apparel industry, facing severe manpower and related challenges, there is a need to build a conscious and responsible workforce that can contribute to creating a harmonious workplace, leading to efficient and sustained business growth. It has been acknowledged that establishing effective communication channels with workers in factories is one of the key factors in enabling a productive and efficient workplace. The Rights & Responsibilities Info-Films Project strives to achieve this harmony in workplace through a one-day experiential learning workshop - which equips the participants with facilitation techniques to address key worker-centric issues through the use of short films, and other materials as training tools in Tamil language.
